Take the Washington State Democrats' Neighborhood Challenge!

Washingtonians are fortunate to live in one of the bluest states in the country; we hold six of the nine congressional districts, both houses of the state legislature, two senate seats, and the governor's mansion. Yet nearly two million of all eligible residents in Washington are not registered to vote. In a state where our last gubernatorial election was decided by 133 votes, those unregistered voters could make all the difference in this year's general election. By signing up as a Neighborhood Leader and registering voters in your neighborhood, you can make all the difference in whether Washington stays blue in 2008. This Saturday, May 10th, we are kicking off the Neighborhood Challenge with voter registration canvasses at over a dozen locations throughout the state. In some neighborhoods, volunteers will go door-to-door with registration forms; in other communities, canvassers will visit public events to register Democrats. You can join this important effort by signing up to be a Neighborhood Leader and taking charge of your precinct here: <http://www.wa-democrats.org/challenge> And, you can sign up for a volunteer shift this weekend at one of the voter registration canvasses at, <http://www.wa-democrats.org/index.php?page=display&id=331>. Don't see a canvass planned near your home? Email Chris Rule, our Neighborhood Challenge Organizer at chris@wa-democrats.org to get the materials you'll need to organize your own canvass. There is no time like the present to start working toward victory – so please join us this weekend at a voter registration canvass near you! --from the Washington State Democratic Coordinated Campaign

King County Democratic Central Committee Meeting Minutes of April 22, 2008

The meeting opened at 7:00 pm, followed by the flag salute, approval of the previous meeting minutes and the proposed agenda. Earth Day was celebrated with a special cake. The Chair recognized all those who volunteered at the April 13th County Convention. Special consideration was given to the Platform/Resolutions committee and the Credentials Committees. Chairs Joel Ware and Gurine Nordby did exceptional work.

Thirteen members have volunteered to participate in the Chehalis River Flood Relief activity on Saturday April 26th. Members will gather at the Carpenters Hall in Renton at 7:30 am to travel to Boistfort for assignment to help clean farming fields at six sites.

The King County – Legislative District PCO rate has risen to 55% full with almost 70 new PCOs signed on in April.

All invoices have been paid and 107 new KCDCC members were added at the Convention.

All Congressional District sites have been identified with the 9th location changing from Puyallup to North Thurston High School in Lacey. The Chair asked members running for national delegates to stand and introduce themselves.

Discussion ensued on how PCO elections will be affected by the Top Two Primary. Clarification is needed since the law is poorly written and unclear especially with regard to PCOs. All Districts all working at getting their PCO declaration of candidacy forms ready. Forms available at the King County Elections website may be sent to King County Elections beginning May 16th and forms may be delivered to Elections during filing week, June 2-6, 2008.

King County Superior Judge candidate (Position 37) Barbara Mack spoke as did Holly Hill, candidate for KC Superior Judge (Position 22). Campaign Manager for Susan Parisien candidate for King County Superior Court, Position 1, addressed the group. Susan Amini, candidate for King County Superior Court, Position 1 was introduced and Bob Loeliger indicated that the 33rd LD had endorsed Susan.

The main program was a presentation by Lynn Allen, local consultant and blogger, and Carol Friends, 41st LD activist. They have used the 41st District as a pilot study for their new approach to neighborhood leaders. They have broken the 41st LD into 20 sections and are organizing events, with intent of work in many of the legislative districts in the 8th Congressional District.

After the break, Fourth Vice Chair of Elections, Emily Willoughby, talked of her recent training course and urged the District Chairs to assign poll worker coordinators who will help assign polling location inspectors and judges for the fall elections.

Phyllis Huster, 5th Legislative District Senate Candidate was introduced and gave a rousing speech. David Spring, one of two candidates to run against Republican Glenn Anderson in the 5th LD was introduced and spoke.

Sarajane Siegfriedt led a presentation and discussion of the endorsement procedure to be used for the July meeting. The rules of endorsement were approved.

The chair led a Caucus/Convention Cycle Brainstorming Session. Statements were made by almost all present and will be formatted into a list for discussion at the next Officers and Chairs meeting in May. The list will be presented to the WSDCC for a future meeting of a statewide task force meeting led by the State Chair.

Meeting was adjourned at 9:40 pm.

Respectfully Submitted by Angela Henry, Sarajane Siegfriedt and Susan Sheary
